Truth About Nursing Media Awards

These annual awards spotlight the best and worst of media for nursing

We are now accepting nominations for the Truth About Nursing awards, which recognize the most notable - best and worst - media about nursing in 2021! Through these annual awards, we inform media creators, the nursing community, and the wider public about the accuracy of nursing portrayals in the media today. The end goal is to improve understanding of the profession, which we believe will increase the respect and resources it receives.

Could charting software be improved?

We will be meeting with Epic soon - please weigh in!

Recently, using our December 2021 MSNBC op-ed as a platform, we asked the makers of Epic charting software for a meeting to discuss how their widely-used software might become more nurse-friendly and use less of nurses' precious clinical time. That would enable nurses to spend more time on direct patient care--including tasks the software itself records--as well as improve nurses' sense of well-being and ability to advocate. Epic representatives graciously agreed to discuss this with us, and we have a meeting set for the middle of this month. We welcome your input. See our top areas of interest.

Netflix and Ryan Murphy plan two-season TV origin story for Nurse Ratched, one of the most damaging anti-nurse stereotypes in history, just released.

After 348 tries, Grey's Anatomy portrayed a nurse doing the nursing work of educating a patient. Encourage Grey's to continue and bring on more nurse characters to do the nursing instead of the surgeons who almost always do it.

Cardi B needs education

as to why the naughty nurse damages the nursing profession

Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt: "Thank God for stupid nurses"

Family Feud uses naughty nurses and battleaxes as a mainstay of its "jokes"

Inside Amy Schumer used vicious anti-nurse stereotypes

The Good Doctor strongly reinforces the stereotype that nurses are low-skilled physician lackeys who are barely involved in hospital care.

Project Nightingale

Don't let this be a search result for "Nightingale."
"New Google / Ascension project has already breached nursing's data security."

Think about the future

New international text Nurses and Nursing leads off with chapter by Truth leaders

The exciting new textbook Nurses and Nursing: The Person and the Profession includes a chapter on nursing's image by Truth leaders Sandy Summers and Harry Jacobs Summers. Edited by Padraig O Luanaigh, RN, EdD, the thought-provoking new textbook from Routledge "draws on international contributors with a range of backgrounds to explore, engage with and challenge readers in understanding the many aspects and elements that inform and influence contemporary nursing practice." Our chapter is "Nursing's public image: Toward a professional future." We thank Dr. Luanaigh for the opportunity to be a part of this important new project. Please consider this book for your classes in professionalism, nursing and society, and nursing leadership. Professors Planning your curriculum?

We have ideas

Many nursing professors rely on the extensive and varied materials on the Truth's website to help their students engage with critical issues nurses will face in the future, from their public image to key aspects of nursing education, practice, and advocacy. Since 2001, we have explored and analyzed how the global media and society in general has seen the nursing profession. Join your colleagues and use this material to help plan your curriculum! Presentations

How can nurses become fierce advocates?

Sandy Summers delivered an empowering message to new graduates in a 2019 speech at Widener University's Nightingale ceremony

In a short, compelling address, Sandy Summers welcomes new graduates to the field of nursing and inspires them to become fierce patient advocates--to put patients' interests first. Sandy explains her holistic vision of nursing advocacy and shares strategies to help nurses find their voices. She highlights areas in need of our advocacy and offers perspectives on how to overcome the resistance we meet when we challenge the world to do better. Nursing advocacy saves lives, and our patients need us to do it. So please join Sandy and let's get started!
